Dear Mr. Stippler:

As an IPL ratepayer, I am writing to object to the plan to force us to pay for installation of electric car charging stations for a foreign for-profit car rental business called Bollore Group, which is not even registered with the Indiana Secretary of State to do business in Indiana. According to local news media reports, you have worked out a compromise with the Ballard Administration in which you have agreed to inflict this outrage on us IPL customers.

I do not dispute the fact that IPL should be compensated for installing the charging stations; I know IPL is a business that does not work for free. My argument is that, like any business constructing a new facility, Bollore Group should pay for the installation. As I see it, forcing us ratepayers to pay Bollore's business startup expenses constitutes securities fraud, Ind. Code § 23-19-5-1. You government officials are trying to force us ordinary citizens to become unwilling individual investors in a foreign for-profit business without individually receiving any return on our investment. Bollore Group and its voluntary investors should pay for installation of the charging stations for its business.

The fact that an electric car rental business might have some general public benefit is irrelevant. Grocery businesses also benefit the public because we need food to survive, but we individual ratepayers should not be forced to fund installation of utilities for a new grocery store.

This petition is so outrageous that I cannot help wondering whether members of the Ballard Administration are taking bribes to push it through. Indiana and Indianapolis government are replete with government officials seeking to enrich themselves at the public's expense. At the very least, Mayor Ballard apparently cares more about enriching foreign companies than treating the citizens of Indiana in a just and lawful manner. I ask you not to facilitate such abusive behavior.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Very truly yours,

Carolyn W. Herz

We are not in favor of an increase in our electricity rate which is to be used to finance an electric car program. We feel that the companies that will benefit from this program should pay for it with their funds and not with a rate increase from utility customers. We urge you not to allow this requested rate increase.

Comments: I feel the cars should be managed and owned by a company used to dealing with rental cars. They would be able to better track and deal with customers, maintenance, insurance and other damages that will occur.
IPL can be responsible for the charging stations as they are an electric pole.
Let the rental company get the expenses of cars and damages and any profit they may obtain.

I am writing to oppose IPL's request for 16 million dollars in cause #4478. I do not think we should be underwriting car electrical outlets during this time when so few people can afford electric cars and the cars take so much power that is now produced by our coal burning plants.

I am writing regarding the proposal to charge IPL customers extra to help pay for the electric car program for Indianapolis. This is a service that has a limited customer base. Why should the IPL ratepayers be expected to foot the bill? If there were truly a demand for this service then it should not need to be subsidized. This service will not benefit directly or even indirectly those who you are proposing to pay for it. Please oppose the $16 million cost to ratepayers in Cause Number 44478.

INDIANA UTILITY
REGULATORY COMMISSION

Dear Commission,

If the information in the INDYSTAR of Friday, August 22, 2014, was correct, I am responding.

As a RATEPAYER of Indianapolis Power and Light, I see no reason to have 28 cents monthly added to my bill for the benefit of a French (foreign) conglomerate who plans to install electric cars for the benefit of a distinctly small minority of city residents who will probably not use them.

I use my electric service wisely and frugally. 28cents a monthly is an ADD-ON which does NOT serve me and the community wisely. It is a TAX being super-imposed upon ALL WHO MUST RECEIVE SERVICE FROM IPL BECAUSE NO OTHER ELECTRIC SERVICE IS PERMIT IN ITS SERVICE AREA – A MONOPOLY. No end of this charge is in sight.

Furthermore, businesses, not-for-profits, churches, and other groups will simply pass on this ADD-ON COST to consumers, clients, members and beneficiaries. UNFAIR!

I appeal to this commission to deny this proposal in total as inappropriate and burdensome to the general well-being of the community.

Sincerely,

Attention Once

I have a complaint concerning the Power Company raising our electric bill in order for them to Power electric Cars. I have talk to several People in my neighborhood & they feel the same way. The Power going to rental business, whom they Rent these car too should pay to re-charge them not from us. If you rent a car its full of gas & when you return it to rental you fill it up. I'm sure you can figure this out not by the ^{us} all the people paying, its unreal how you people want to keep paying for other people's doing. I guess when you push & get away with you think we'll just keep doing. Now its time to stop we do good to pay for ourselves and if you wish for me to take a survey in my neighbor I will as I repeatedly told all the people on the phone as I have save several numbers, well you kept passing the buck finally the last person said your complaint has to be on paper, here it is, we don't want to pay for electric company to charge cars for rental or anything else, we pay enough for our.

Thank, Mahe McAnally

I fully support the "Don't force IPL customers to pay for Indy's electric car program!"

It is not the responsibility of IPL customers to pay for electric cars or a program that is not used by every customer.

I fully oppose the request for $16 million in Cause Number 44478.

I fully agree that this is not an appropriate use of ratepayer money – ratepayers pay for utility service and investments that benefit the utility system and its customers.

Demand that those who CAN afford these investments and will benefit from the electric car service be the ones to pay for them.

Sincerely,

David Stippler,
I have been an IPL ratepayer for more than 37 years. Rates have increased way too much over the last four years. We can't afford anymore increases.
I do not want to pay for Indy's electric car program. I do not want to subsidize Fortune 500 companies.
Please oppose IPL's request for $16 million in Cause Number 44478. Demand that those who can afford these investments and who stand to benefit be the ones to pay for the program!
Appreciate your support.

Dear Mr. Stippler,

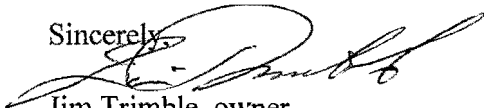

I emphatically oppose cause number 44478 and ask that you deny the request. If BlueIndy is such a great idea, then why does the Bolllore Group need a 100% cost replacement guarantee? That alone is enough to make me walk away from any deal.

When will this nonsense stop! Ratepayers and taxpayers alike are constantly on the hook for private enterprise. That is not how it's supposed to work. If someone has an idea, but can't make it work financially, then tweak it, overhaul it, or bury it. Let the users pay. Let the direct benefactors pay.

If IPL needs to sell more power, maybe they should stop trying to get us to ditch our old refrigerators.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

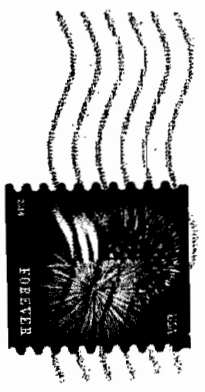

Jim Trimble, owner

Dear David Stippler,

I am writing to express my opposition to IPL's request for $16 million for the car program, issue # 44478. Rates for electric utility payers should be used only for electric service and not for any so-called good cause that IPL can propose.
